About Park Row Apartments

Enjoy relaxed apartment-home living at Park Row Apartments, a quiet Albany, N.Y., residential retreat conveniently located blocks from the city's downtown business district. As part of the vibrant Pine Hills neighborhood, our community is set amidst historic duplexes and semi-detached homes. Park Row Apartments is near schools, colleges/universities, medical centers and a teaching hospital, shopping/dining, several parks, recreation centers and two major thoroughfares – Madison and Western avenues. Access traveling to and from your apartment home could not be simpler. Two Capital District Transit Authority (CDTA) bus routes at the Warren Street intersections of Quail and Ontario Streets are steps from our community and State Routes 22 and 9W connect vehicles to I-787 and I-87, respectively.

Thanks to a complete property-wide renovation, Park Row Apartments features the most modern amenities and exterior touches that exceed the lifestyle needs and expectations of all our residents. From sunlit spacious rooms with large windows, outdoor enclosed porches and updated eat-in kitchens and baths, to renovated public areas such as hallways, entryways and a central laundry facility, our community is charming, comfortable and convenient. Off-street paved-surface parking, optional garages and individual storage facilities add to Park Row Apartments' already distinguished character.

Select your apartment-home from one of our spacious one- or two-bedroom floorplans and make it personal with an array of custom-finish designer options. Join us in opening the door to a whole new way of life at Park Row Apartments.
